Lots of Relief in Property Tax

Those persons who pay county property tax bills direct know that the bills are delinquent after 5 p.m. tomorrow.

They also know that they are paying too much for the services they get.

Few will argue the point.

If you are one who resents the high tax bill, you should take a look at what you're paying for.

Your responsibilities vary with tax code areas. That means, in simple language, that the fire district tax rate may be higher in Spring Valley than in Lemon Grove; and that you may have a lighting district tax in some parts of the area and not in others. The sanitation district tax is higher in some areas than in others, and the elementary school district tax varies, too.

In one tax responsibility area for which this writer pays, there are fourteen taxing agencies. The total rate is $12.52 for each $100 of assessed valuation plus a $12 charge for sewer service. The total amount of the bill which is being studied is $1,910.70. (Tax rate area 85006, Book 475, Page 472, Parcel 26.)

There are a couple of things in the tax rate that don't show up on the bill.

One—the army of welfare recipients which this month reached the total of 97,871. These include the Aid to Families With Dependent Children (AFDC) about which little is said but it is a tax cost never-the-less.

The other major expense is the growing family of county employees. These now total approximately 8,000—and there is no indication that the growing tide will be stemmed.

Several weeks ago we suggested that overburdened taxpayers should pick some Friday to march on civic center and protest the carrying of the tax albatross.

To that suggestion came a score of communications asking when and who would be the leader.

To which we reply, let a leader come forth and an hour and date will be set.

Not Rich but Educated

I used to think I was poor.

Then they told me I wasn't poor, I was needy.

Then they told me it was self-defeating to think of myself as needy, that I was just culturally deprived.

They told me deprived was a bad image, that I should think of it as underprivileged.

Then they told me underprivileged was over-used; that I was disadvantaged.

I still don't have a dime, but I've developed a great vocabulary.

Parent Leader Workshops Held

Over 130 volunteers in San Diego County have enrolled in the "Parent Leadership Workshops" sponsored by the San Diego County Department of Education and the Ninth District Council of PTA's.

Under the program, parents of youngsters in county schools are trained one night each week for six weeks, learning about the reading process, problems youngsters encounter in learning to read, and material for use in the classroom.

After their training, the volunteers will assist teachers with reading programs in schools throughout the county.

Among those reading specialists conducting the workshops is Andrew Webb from the Lemon Grove School District.

Four more workshops are scheduled to begin after the first of the year, according to Mrs. Jacqueline Chaparro, curriculum coordinator for the Department of Education. For details, Mrs. Chaparro may be contacted, as can local school principals and PTA representatives.

SDG&E To Sponsor Geothermal Research

San Diego Gas & Electric Company last week announced that it is sponsoring a research program that may lead to the utility's use of geothermal energy to generate electricity.

The company has entered into an agreement with Magma Power Company and Magma Energy, Inc., for exploration of geothermal energy resources in Imperial Valley for power plant use.

Magma, a pioneer in the development and use of geothermal energy in this country, holds leases on several large parcels of land in Imperial Valley where an extensive reservoir of geothermal water is believed to exist.

San Diego Gas & Electric Company will provide funds for drilling on Magma leased sites to obtain geologic information and to investigate the geothermal energy potential.

If hot water is obtained, tests will be conducted to determine the temperature, chemical composition, pressure and flow rates of the geothermal fluid and its effect on various materials that might be used in the process of converting geothermal energy to electricity.

FFA Group Gets Use Of Rancho San Diego Land

Rancho San Diego has granted the interim use of 230 of its 6,000 acres to the El Cajon Valley High School Chapter of the Future Farmers of America for educational project use.

In making the announcement, Leonard Grayson, Vice President and Chief Executive Officer of RSD said, "We are making this land available to the young people to assist them in building their skills learned through the vocational agriculture courses at El Cajon Valley High School."

"Rancho San Diego's open spaces offer students an opportunity to work the land on a scale that allows maximum use of their skills," Grayson said. "Rancho San Diego is located within ten minutes driving time of the high school. This certainly facilitates transportation to sites and supervision time," he said. Nine FFA members will be working on two separate projects. The first involves the preparation, planting, growing, and harvesting of oats and alfalfa.

According to Glen Casey, vocational agriculture instructor at the school, "this area will provide an excellent experience in dry farming." The site is located near the new recreational site of Cottonwood Lake.

The second project will involve the care, maintenance and harvesting of 30 acres of oranges from an existing orchard at Rancho San Diego.

There are currently 115 members in the local FFA Chapter which was founded in 1930 at Grossmont Union High School and later moved to El Cajon Valley High in 1953.

Future Farmers of America is a self-supporting organization designed to supplement training opportunities for students who are progressing toward the goal of establishment in some phase of agriculture.

The El Cajon Chapter of the FFA includes students from Spring Valley, Lemon Grove, and many other areas within the Grossmont Union High School District.

Three Spring Valley juveniles, including one young lady who gave a false name to arresting officers, were taken into custody last week on charges ranging from curfew violation to possession of marijuana.

While on routine patrol, deputies observed the trio sitting outside an open liquor store in Spring Valley at 11:45 p.m. Wednesday evening.

As the patrol car drew nearer, reports indicated, the young lady was seen to lower something to the ground. When deputies contacted the suspects, it was discovered the item in question was an open bottle of wine.

The suspects at that time were arrested on possession of an alcoholic beverage by a minor and curfew violation charges.

A routine search of the young lady revealed a knife on her person, as well as a "hash pipe" smelling of burned marijuana, and a "roach clip" in her purse. She identified herself as the sister of one of the male suspects.

While handcuffing the suspect who identified himself as the girl's brother, deputies discovered three grams of hashish.

The remaining suspect was released to the custody of his mother, while the "brother and sister" were transported to juvenile hall. Afterwards, a telephone call to the male suspect's mother disproved the girl's identification.

Signboard Control Is New Law

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A strict interim ordinance for the control of signs in the unincorporated territory was adopted on Tuesday by the County Board of Supervisors.

A hearing on the ordinance was set for Jan. 26 because interim ordinances are in effect for only 90 days without a hearing.

Real estate directional signs would still be allowed, but under much more strict conditions.

Board members indicated that they are worried that as the cities adopt more restrictive laws about signs there will be pressure to install the signs in county areas near the cities.

Official, warning, or no trespassing signs are not covered in the law.

Violation of the terms of the ordinance will be a misdemeanor and punishable by six months in jail or a $500 fine or both.

The law was adopted as an urgency measure and went into effect immediately.

Eddie Albert Here For TB Promotion

Motion picture and television star Eddie Albert, his wife Margo, and their daughter Maria and son Edward have been appointed the 1971 California Christmas Seal Family according to Miss Bernice Morris, president of the Tuberculosis and Respiratory Health Association of San Diego and Imperial Counties. They will be in San Diego today making public appearances for the Christmas Seal Campaign.

The ecology-minded Alberts are a family unit dedicated to the replenishment of the environment and strongly endorse the air conservation activities of California's 25 local Christmas Seal Associations.

Miss Morris reminded local residents that the annual Christmas Seal Campaign supports year-round activities dedicated to the elimination of the respiratory health menace — air pollution, the eradication of tuberculosis, and the control of other respiratory diseases.

Spring Valley Man Is Assault Victim

A Spring Valley man, Anthony M. Catletti, 23, of 444 Grand ave., was the apparent victim of an assault with a deadly weapon last week as he drove his vehicle to Southwest College.

Catletti told deputies that as he was on his way to Southwest at about 6:30 p.m. last Thursday evening, he pulled up at a spotlight behind a faded blue-green Ford sedan.

Two young white males with long dark hair got out of the car at that point, and began engaging in horseplay. A passenger still in the suspect vehicle at one point handed a rifle or shotgun out the window, Catletti said.

The two suspects who were outside the vehicle got back in to the car again before the signal changed.

Catletti said that as the car pulled away from the intersection, it weaved all over the road and moved at a slow speed. As he passed the vehicle, Catletti reported, a passenger who had been hanging his head and arms out of the left rear window darted back into the car and reappeared with what appeared to be a handgun.

Catletti indicated that he accelerated quickly at that point and heard three reports from the gun. He said that he believed one slug from the weapon hit the pavement just to the left of his vehicle.

The victim described the vehicle as a blue-green Ford sedan, faded, possibly a Fairlane, approximately a 1963 make. The suspect vehicle had no license plate, he said, but a bumper sticker on the left rear bumper read: "If you love Jesus, honk".

Decorations Contest Set By SV CoC

The Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce this year is again sponsoring a Christmas decorations contest for residents of Spring Valley.

Co-chairmen of the contest are Helen Baker and Marlene Ketell, and the entire board of directors of the chamber will be working on the project which has been dubbed "Spring Valley Beautiful With Christmas Lights."

Twelve area judges will pick first, second and third place homes in each of their areas next week. After area winners are selected, the judges will meet December 20 to select final winners.

At 7:30 p.m. that evening, the judges will board a chartered bus for a trip to each area winner. The bus will depart from the Carman Ranch Club, 2515 Sweetwater rd., Spring Valley, and reservations are now being accepted for the tour.

The bus will hold only 45 persons besides the judges, so early reservations are advised. Reservations are available by phone at 466-2375 or 463-2882. Cost of the tour is $1 per person.

Runaway Jailed On Theft Charge

A fourteen-year-old boy from Torrance, California, was arrested in Lemon Grove last week on charges of auto theft and being a runaway.

While on routine patrol, Sheriff's deputies observed two Chevrolet's in Lemon Grove Park which were jammed up in the front and a youthful appearing suspect near the front of one of the automobiles.

As deputies neared, the suspect ran away and was pursued without success. Deputies then cleared the area of patrol cars and one deputy hid in a nearby restroom to wait for the suspect.

A short time later, the youth returned and was apprehended. After being questioned, he admitted running away from his home and stealing one of the cars in Torrance. He also indicated that he was accompanied by another juvenile, who took the second car from the parking lot of Food Basket in Lemon Grove.

The second suspect, however, did not return to the scene.

LG Fire Report

The Lemon Grove Fire Department, for the week of Nov. 29-Dec. 6, answered three fire calls and two rescue calls.

The big fire of the week, which caused damage to a living room and contents of the Edward Cole home at 7407 Waite dr., was on Dec. 3 at 1:13 a.m. Damage was estimated at $1,000. The fire department sent 12 men, 12 call men and two trucks to the fire.

Witnesses Lead To Arrest Of Two Juveniles

Two male juveniles were taken into custody last week on charges of automobile burglary.

Reports from the Sheriff's Department indicated that the suspects apparently removed a box of stereo tapes valued at about $100 from the car of Rick G. Ortiz, of 656 Kempton st., Spring Valley, while the vehicle was parked outside his residence.

Reports indicated that a neighbor witnessed the alleged theft, calling its attention to the victim, who was in his residence. The witnesses also watched the suspects hide the tapes in some nearby bushes.

The victim recovered his tapes from the bushes and alerted authorities, who contacted the suspects a short distance from the scene of the crime.

Off-On Rain Totals .47"

December has been a moist month, so far, according to Jerry McReynolds, meteorologist with the local Fire Department. But it made an off and on pattern.

Thursday's storm, last week, brought .07 of an inch of rain; the next day .33 fell, and this week, early Tuesday, brought another .07.

The storm brought this year's total to 2.21 which is a little more than a half inch behind last year's 2.83 at the same date.

Although the temperature varied by high or low terrain, the official reading for Wednesday morning was 32 degrees.

Under a new policy adopted earlier this month, fathers are now allowed in the delivery room at Mercy Hospital and Medical Center, it was announced by Sister M. Placida, Administrator.

"Salieron" is the way we say "They went out." This may be used in phrases like "Salieron juntos." (They went out together.), "Salieron en el coche." (They went out in the car.), "Salieron a comer." (They went out to eat.), and "Salieron a pescar ayer." (They went out to fish yesterday.)

"Salen" is one way to say "they leave". We may use this word in phrases like "Ellos no salen temprano." (They do not leave early.), "Ellos siempre salen a las ocho." (They always leave at eight o'clock.), and "A que hora salen los camiones?" (At what time do the buses leave?)

"Salen" may also be used to express "they come up" when we talk about plants coming up out of the ground. We may appreciate this concept in phrases like "Las flores salen en primavera." (Flowers come up in the spring.), "Las plantas no salen sin agua." (The plants do not come up without water.)

"Salir" means "to leave" and may also be used to mean "to come out." For example we may say "Voy a salir bien en los exámenes." (I am going to come out well in the examinations.), "No me gusta salir mal." (I do not like to come out badly.), and "Es importante salir bien con todo el trabajo." (It is important to come out well with all the work.). Another expression might be "Ahora usted sale con eso." which changes the form of "salir" to "sale." This phrase is translated "And now, you come out with this."

"Salir de compras" means "to go out shopping." This may be seen in "Ella le gusta salir de compras." (She likes to go out shopping.) and "No me gusta salir de compras." (I do not like to go out shopping.)

"Sale ganando" is a great way to "come out" as it suggests that one "comes out ahead" as seen in "El sale ganando." (He comes out ahead.)

Party for Parents Set At Monte Vista High

Students in Monte Vista High School's child development courses will take part in a role reversal this evening, when they host a party for parents and children enrolled in the school's nursery school.

The parents of nursery school children will be coming to the party to get to know their children's teachers, and the teachers they will be meeting are high school students who are enrolled in one of three child development courses at Monte Vista.

There are 27 children enrolled in two nursery school sessions which are operated by the Home Economics Department, under the direction of chairman Genevieve Ruef. The morning session, which is in its second year as a year-round operation, is operated by two classes of Mrs. Deanne Moody, who is aided by teaching assistant Mrs. Betty Joe Amick.

"The classes are each divided into thirds, with one third of the students studying bookwork, one third writing up a class project for when they supervise the nursery school and one third actually teaching the students," Mrs. Moody explained. All students rotate through the three cycles, thus adding practical experience to their learning experience.

Mrs. Moody said that the program began experimentally three years ago with a 10-week school, and the response was so favorable that it was made a permanent program.

The nursery school, which has children of teachers, family members of students, and children from the community enrolled, has a waiting list, so this year a special six-week afternoon session is being offered. This was made possible because a Grossmont College education student, Mrs. Carol Weber, is taking her student teaching at Monte Vista.

This will be the second year for the Parent Christmas Party, which last year drew 120 people. A special attraction will be entertainment by Shirley McManus, from the Puppet Theatre in Balboa Park.

Safe Christmas Toys To Be Problem For Parents

In spite of federal regulations, proposed local legislation, and industry self regulation, providing safe toys for their children this year will depend primarily on the wisdom and judgment of parents, the National Safety Council said.

What can a parent do to see that his child's toys will be safe?

First, he can select toys that fit the child's age and ability. Gerald Cole, the National Safety Council's child safety consultant, says "You can't always depend on the manufacturer's age guidelines. If the advertising reads '7 to 12 years,' the device will probably not appeal to the sophisticated 12-year old but on the other hand, may be used by children under seven.

The toy industry has been working on labeling this last year, but a parent should still evaluate a toy on the basis of his child's interests and ability. Parents should be careful not to fall into the trap of buying toys they like rather than toys appropriate to the child."

To help adults pick toys which are suitable for a child's age level, Cole offered the following guidelines:

"Babies up to one year of age like to feel, chew, hold, drop and look at things. But be sure that the toys are too large to be swallowed and that they have no small attachments that might come loose."

"Toddlers from 1 to 2 years of age love to investigate the world. Choose playthings that they can take apart and put back together, or move from one place to another."

"Between 2 and 3 years of age children love to experiment. They like to build things with blocks, turn the pages of books, dabble with finger paints. But they still may try to swallow small objects, so be careful about the size of the toy."

"At 3 or 4 years of age, the child often tries to imitate adults. Good 'let's pretend' gifts include small brooms and carpet sweepers, toy telephones, dolls, miniature tools, trucks and tractors, and suitcases to pack and unpack."

"Little people start to be more creative in their play around ages 4 to 6. They enjoy paints and paint books, dolls that have clothes or a doll house and furniture, small sports equipment, simple construction sets and even costumes for dramatic play."

Fish and Game Elections Set

Members of the San Diego County Fish and Game Association in good standing will be called upon to cast votes for the Association's 1972 officers and directors at the annual meeting to be held in the Balboa Park War Memorial building this evening at 7:30 p.m.

The chief "bone of contention" will be the presidency, with Bill Pritzl, who has served the association as a member of several important committees, pitted against incumbent Bob Fleming, the rifle range chairman for the last few years.

Twelve men will be in contention for the seven vacancies on the seven-man board of directors.

While the election and vote counting will take up most of the evening, the time will not pass slowly as several fine films of an outdoor nature will be shown. The meeting, as usual, will be open to the public.

Week-end COMBO Proceeds To Go To Cultural Groups

COMBO's two benefit auctions this week will be widely different from the pair of auctions in 1970.

COMBO-Mart, the informal public auction on Friday will feature four simultaneous live auctions in the Community Concourse Exhibit Hall. Last year COMBO-Mart was by written bid only.

Bud Fischer, head auctioneer, and his team plan to auction 700 items between 7 p.m. and midnight. Doors of the Exhibit Hall will open at 5 p.m. Friday for two hours of viewing of items. Refreshments will be available. Tickets at $1.50 will be on sale at the door.

COMBO Christmas Party, the informal dinner auction on Saturday, also has a different complexion from the 1970 version. In addition to 170 luxury items in the live auction there will be a silent auction and a box auction where 130 items will be sold by written bid.

Lawrence Cushman, auction operations chairman, said the price range of Saturday night items is from $85 to $7,800.

The price range at COMBO-Mart is from $5 to $20,830. The largest items to be sold at auction by COMBO will be two $20,830 Villa condominiums — one in Rancho de los Penasquitos and one in California Terraces.

Except for antiques and rare items so marked, all merchandise sold at COMBO is new, it was said.

COMBO auction proceeds go to the Old Globe Theatre, Civic Youth Orchestra, San Diego Opera Guild, Civic Youth Ballet, San Diego Civic Light Opera (Starlight), Young Audiences Inc., La Jolla Museum of Contemporary Art, San Diego Symphony Orchestra Assn., Ballet of San Diego Inc., Junior Theatre.

Mt. Miguel Students Get Film Award

Two Mount Miguel High School students, Dale Hoffman and West Kennerly, were recently awarded an honorable mention in the Kodak Film Contest for their film, "Murder in the Dipsey Dumpster."

The movie, a satire on old monster flicks, stars Jim Merriek, as the Dipsey monster, and Dale Hoffman, in three separate roles.

In the beginning of the production, Merriek is emptying his garbage into the "dipsey dumpster," when a box from outer space strikes his head. Then he takes a pill and hides in the dipsey dumpster," explained director Kennerly.

After a short time, Merriek is transposed into the monster, and goes about his evil deeds, including eating a little boy, destroying the Army and the Air Force, and beating the unbeatable foe, Superman.

Finally, the hero catches wind of what's happening and gives chase to the monster. The chase scene ends at the dipsey dumpster, where the monster is knocked out by the policeman.

Hoffman and Kennerly have already begun work on a sequel, "The Return of the Dipsey Monster," as well as another satire, "Wild World of Sports."

The film was shown in Mary Moreau's English classes, as have several radio shows produced by the two youngsters.

'Thin Man' Is Movie Set Tonight

Grossmont College's Office of Community Services will continue its Film Forum Series when "The Thin Man" and chapter four of "Fighting With Kit Carson" are screened at 7 p.m. this evening at Grossmont Gardens, 5480 Marango ave., La Mesa.

Featuring an all-star cast that includes William Powell, Myrna Loy, Maureen O'Sullivan, Nat Pendleton and Cesar Romero, "The Thin Man" started the series about the witty detective and his almost-too-good-to-be-true charming wife.

The story line concerns an aged inventor who disappears, provoking a succession of insane murders which Nick Charles, the fictional detective who can do no wrong, solves during an eerie dinner party.

Directed by W. S. Van Dyke, "The Thin Man" is a bright and brash concoction that makes wise and wide use of the suave Powell who is alternately urbane and amusing, then little-boy helpless within earshot of his wife.

Johnny Mack Brown and his crew will again uphold law and order in chapter four of "Fighting With Kit Carson."

The films will be shown as part of a non-credit course titled "History and Appreciation of Films," sponsored by the college's Office of Community Services. The course will trace the development of films and their impact on our society from the silents of the 20's to the award winners of today.

Adult members of the community are invited to participate in this free continuing education course devoted to the "History and Appreciation of Films." Youths under 16 must be accompanied by an adult.

Hilltop, Saints, Crawford Get Wins Over Matadors

By Paul Stark

The Mount Miguel basketball team, running into problems with an injury and some tough basketball teams, dropped three contests in as many games last week.

The first loss of the week came Tuesday afternoon at Hilltop, where Steve Copp and Company belittled the local team, 85-63.

The game looked like a good one in the first quarter, as the Matadors stayed right with the Lancers. Hilltop took the lead for good about halfway through the second period when Joe Medina's layup erased a 25-25 tie.

The Matadors, down by nine points going into the third period of action, came apart at the seams in that period, as bad passing and a slow defense helped the Lancers take a commanding lead, which held up for the remainder of the contest. When the buzzer sounded signifying the end of the game, Hilltop had the victory, 85-63.

On Friday night, Mount Miguel traveled to Chula Vista for a game with the rugged St. Augustine Saints. However, the Matadors lost senior guard Tim Miller the day before when he sprained an ankle in practice.

Nevertheless, Mount Miguel made a good show of the contest, and even took the lead in the fourth quarter before the slow defense bug infected the local players.

Mount Miguel, on the power of excellent outside shooting from Mark Dobransky, matched the Saints man for man for the first three periods and held the Saints to just 43 tallies while piling up 52 points.

The nine-point margin melted quickly in the final stanza, however, as the Saints' Bob McIver suddenly got hot, pouring through 16 points in the quarter.

McIver made it a one-man show as he stopped Mt. Miguel outside shooting with excellent defense and controlled the boards at both ends of the court.

When the smoke cleared, the Saints had the victory, 75-68.

On Saturday night, the Matadors took on Crawford in what was billed as a close game.

In the first period, however, the Colts came out shooting, dropping 19 points through the hoops, while Mt. Miguel managed only eleven tallies.

Mike Culver led the Colt charge, penetrating the Matador defenses for 10 tallies in the first quarter. Without the services of Matador super-guard Tim Miller, things went poorly for Mt. Miguel. The Matadors relied mainly on the Mark Dobransky-Mike Bruner combination, which clicked for nine points in the period.

In the second quarter, things evened up a bit, as the Matadors hit from the outside for 17 points, seven of which came from the hot hand of Dobransky. Crawford, however, didn't let up offensively, collecting 15 tallies to take a 34-38 lead into the dressing room.

In the third quarter, Mount Miguel began hitting again, but the defense could not contain Mike Davis, who got nine tallies for the Colts. Nevertheless, the Matadors nibbled away at the lead, and trailed by only five going into the final period of play.

The teams traded baskets for most of the period, with the Matadors finally getting a needed rally with two minutes left. After trailing by nine points, Mount Miguel narrowed the gap to four tallies, but the Colts turned the local team away with a basket with ten seconds left to play.

The Matadors have one more contest remaining before the annual Kiwanis Invitational Tournament begins December 18 at San Diego Mesa College.

The game, which will be Saturday night at 8 p.m., will be at University High School, a team that will offer the local squad more than enough competition. If Miller heals however, the Matadors could make a good contest of it.

EASY RIDER — Billy Silverthorn, of Lemon Grove, ran a good race at the final Trans-Ama Motocross race at Saddleback Park in Orange County over the weekend, claiming 18th place overall and fifth among American riders. The Trans-Ama series pits top drivers from European nations against riders from America. The Europeans dominated this year's series. At Saddleback, the Belgian Suzuki team of Roger De Coster, Joel Robert, and Sylvain Geboers swept the race. 33,000 spectators were on hand, the most ever to see a motorcycle race in the United States.

Floyd Little to Try For 1,000 Yards Sunday Against Revived Chargers

Goodbye Purple Gang. Hello Orange Devils.

The Denver Broncos, NFL leaders in sacking quarterbacks, invade San Diego Stadium Sunday to challenge elusive John Hadl and the swift San Diego Chargers. Kickoff is 1 p.m.

Having conquered the prestigious Purple Gang of the Minnesota Vikings, 30-14, last Sunday, the Chargers (5-7) have a more important mission against the Broncos (4-7-1). The team which loses this Sunday is faced with a long off-season in the cold basement of the AFC West.

But the Chargers have found life sunny as long as they play in sunny San Diego. They are 5-1 at San Diego Stadium. Against Minnesota, they scored more points against the Vikings than any other team in three years and did it be-

TV Star Chad Everett Leads 'Band' Sunday
Chad Everett, star of television's "Medical Center," will play a most unusual role at Sunday's game between the San Diego Chargers and Denver Broncos at San Diego Stadium.

Everett will be bandmaster for the world's first all-transistor radio marching band, which will perform on the field before the opening kickoff. The band is sponsored by radio KDOE and Dow Sound City.

final game at San Diego Stadium this year, they will attempt to avenge an earlier 20-16 defeat to the Broncos.

Denver is dangerous. Under new coach Jerry Smith, the Broncos have won their last two games, defeating Pittsburgh, 22-10, and Chicago, 6-3. Last Sunday, they sacked Bobby Douglas, Chicago's sturdy quarterback, nine times to raise their season's sack total to 41.

In Floyd Little, Denver has the premier running back in the AFC. The 5-10, 198-pound star from Syracuse is headed for his second successive AFC rushing crown and a 1,000-yard season. Last year, he ran for 901 yards. With two games left this season, he has 956 yards.

Bobby Anderson, Little's running mate, has been a particular thorn to the Chargers. In the first game between the teams, he ran for 106 yards as the Broncos set a club record of 223 yards rushing. Little, playing half the game, had 62 yards.

While Denver has delighted in dumping quarterbacks, San Diego has specialized in pro-

Big Hoop Schedule To Spice Prep Play

By John Nicholson

Next week will be the last opportunity for local high school basketball teams to get pre-season games in before the Kiwanis Tournament, which begins December 18. The oversized hoop schedule and wrestling action planned for the week follow, along with probable winners.

Castle Park at Monte Vista. Castle Park has one shooter and no defense, while Monte Vista has a good defense and a reasonably steady offense. The Monarchs, with good shooting from Carl Zemlick and Rick Baker, should be able to do away with the Trojans, who have all-CIF candidate Sam Peckolt. Monarchs by 5. (Friday, 8 p.m.)

Hoover at El Cajon. Hoover has little scoring strength and has been cursed with too many turnovers, while El Cajon has had height problems. Both teams have to be called average, but Hoover should be able to pick up the win by four or five points. (Friday, 8 p.m.)

Jumper Ruled Too Late, Madison Beats Monarchs

By Tom Blattler

A 23-foot jump shot at the buzzer was ruled too late to count last Friday night and cost the Monte Vista basketball team a one-point victory over the Madison Warhawks.

in prep pre-season basketball action in the Madison gym.

The game between the Warhawks and Monarchs was an exciting one, with both teams trading leads during the fourth period until Madison led, 53-54, with just two seconds left on the clock.

At that point, Monarch forward Steve Smith inbounced to forward Carl Zemlick, who let the final shot fly as the buzzer sounded. The ball swished through the net, but the officials said it was too late, and Madison had the victory.

In the early going, Monte Vista had few problems, piling up a 15-9 lead in the first period as Madison couldn't find the basket. In the second period, the Warhawks began hitting, but Monte Vista continued a hot hand and led at the half, 29-20.

In the second half, however, Madison was a changed team, hitting with increasing frequency with jump shots from outside. Monte Vista's hot shooting cooled off enough to let the Warhawks claim the lead as the third period ended, 40-39.

Madison became more physical in the final period, driving in for baskets, but Monte Vista countered each bucket until the final buzzer sounded.

The key to the game was Madison's height advantage and the Monarchs' poor luck at the free throw line in crucial situations.

Madison's tall front trio kept Monte Vista center Greg Burness in a tizzy defensively, but the Monarch senior blocked several shots, although he was unable to do his usual excellent patrolling of the rebounds.

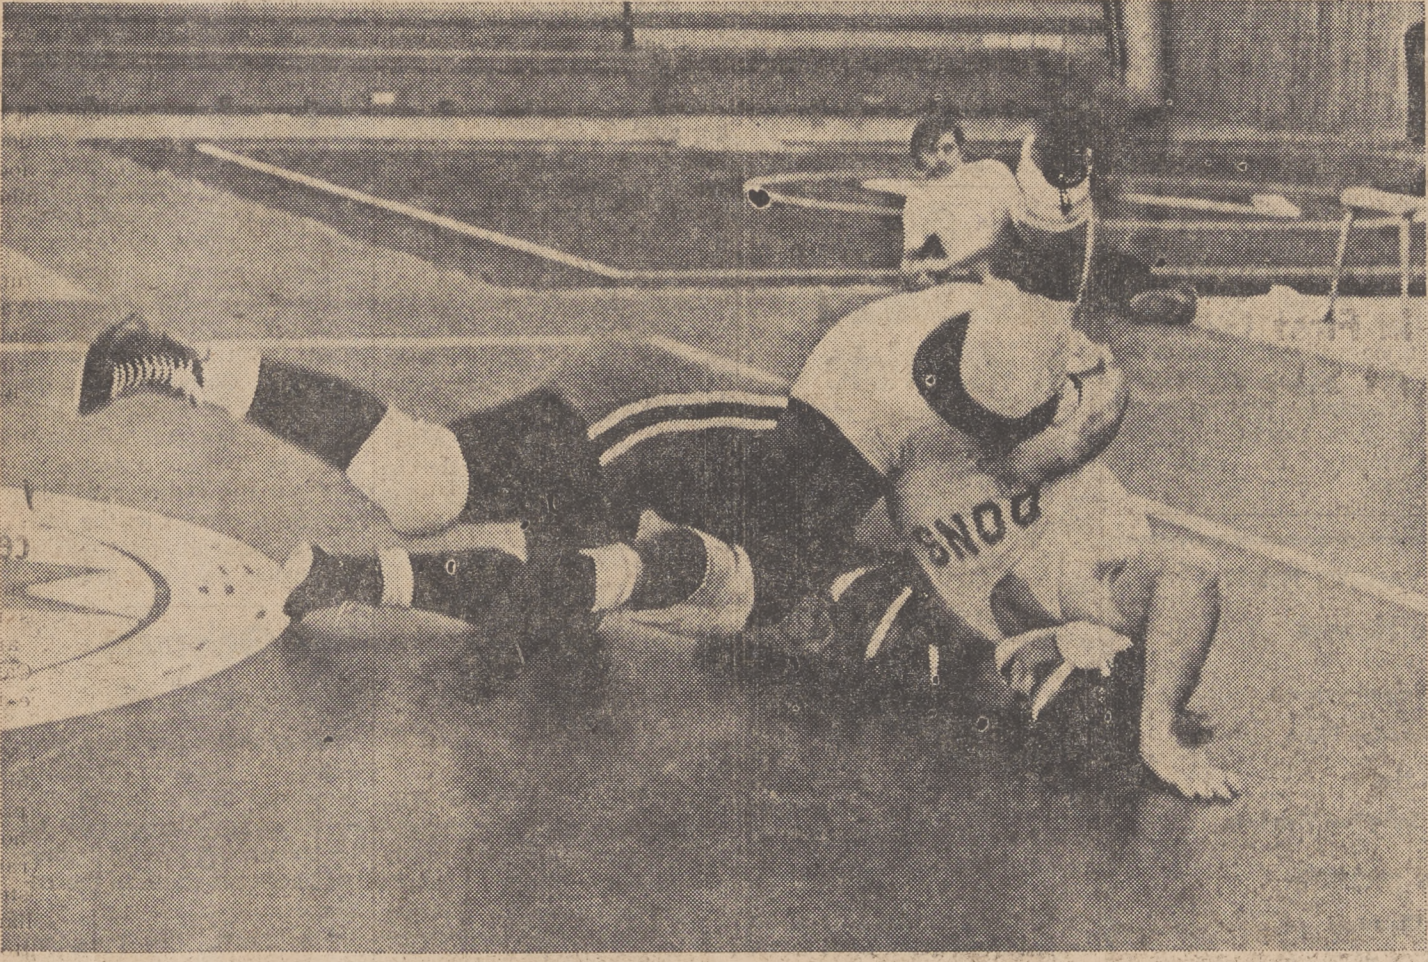

From the free throw line, the Monarchs hit for only 20 points on 34 attempts. Additionally, Monte Vista missed seven crucial shots from the charity stripe in the final period.

Carl Zemlick led Monte Vista scoring with 23 tallies, and aided the local team's cause with 16 rebounds, but Rick Baker chipped in 12 tallies for the losers.

The Monarchs will be back in action tomorrow night, hosting the Castle Park Tro-

OVER HE GOES — Mount Miguel High School wrestler Dave Morgan turns the tables on University's John Freeman in the heavyweight division of the Southwestern Invitational tournament last week at Southwestern College. Morgan, who was wrestling as a substitute for Dave Schroeder, beat Freeman in the semi-finals, but was beaten in the consolation finals and was forced to take fourth place in the tourney. Mount Miguel held the advantage through the first four rounds of action on a team basis, but Monte Vista rallied on the second day of the two-day event to take the team title. (Mark Coffin photo)

Monte Vista Edges Matador Wrestlers

The Monte Vista Monarchs, finishing in a flurry, came from behind to beat the Mt. Miguel Matadors out of first place in the Southwestern Invitational high school wrestling tournament last week.

In the qualifying rounds on Thursday, Mt. Miguel jumped away to a big lead, while Monte Vista managed enough qualifiers to stay within range of the defending CIF champs.

As the finals rolled around on Friday, however, Monte Vista more than made up its 20-point deficit to grab the title with 104½ points. Mount Miguel was second with 97½ tallies.

Helix, finishing third, piled up a somewhat disappointing 61 points in the two-day tourney, while Granite Hills surprised Santana for fourth place with 53 points. Santana was fifth with 46.

REHEARSAL — Organist Jim Hansen and soloist Trina Greig get in a bit of rehearsal for Saturday night's performance at the Southland Music Center, 3459 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove. Hansen will provide organ music for a special Christmas program at the center, which will include the silent comedy classic "Big Business" with Laurel and Hardy. Miss Greig will lead the Gulbransen Gaiety Girls in the program.

Christmas Program Set Saturday

Southland Music Center, located at 3459 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove, will present one of its owners, Jim Hansen, in a special Christmas program Saturday night at 8 p.m.

Hansen, who is the organist for the International Sports Arena, will supply organ music for the program, which will include the silent music classic "Big Business", with the Laurel and Hardy, and the Gulbransen Gaiety Girls, who will do some light Christmas numbers.

Hansen has been organist with the famed Blue Jacket Choir of the Naval Training Center, and has been on the concert trail throughout the United States.

The film, "Big Business", is a short subject made in 1929 about Stan and Ollie as they sell Christmas trees in sunny California, working all the houses in the neighborhood with their Model T pickup and will do some light Christmas numbers.

The Gulbransen Girls, with entertainer Trina Greig, will do such light numbers as "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer" and "Frosty the Snowman". Also included in the program will be a community sing-along session.

Choral Presentation On Tap Tomorrow

"Discover the Meaning of Christmas," a dramatic choral presentation of selections from Handel's Messiah, will be given Friday at 8 p.m. in the Chapel of Sacred Heart, Greenfield Hills, 2100 Greenfield dr., El Cajon. The program will jointly be presented by the students of the high school of Sacred Heart, Greenfield Hills and the Chancel Choir of the Northminster Presbyterian Church, San Diego.

have put a surprisingly strong team together this season. Sweetwater, not known for its overpowering basketball teams, could be surprised in this game. Granite Hills in a 12-point upset. (Friday, 7 p.m.)

Grossmont at Bonita Vista. Bonita Vista is quite a team, but no match for the Hillers. The Barons have one of the highest shooting percentages among area schools, but have yet to face a 7-foot shot blocker like Grossmont's Ralph Drolinger. Foothillers by 15. (Friday, 8 p.m.)

Mt. Miguel at University. University has an excellent defensive team and a couple of good runners, while the Matadors have much the same type of team, only smaller. Mount Miguel has been coming along with the running game, but has yet to reach the same caliber as Uni. Dons by 11. (Saturday, 8 p.m.)

El Capitan at Orange Glen. Not much needs to be said about this game, as the Vaqueros have all the talent between the two clubs. El Cap by 21. (Saturday, 7:45 p.m.)

Madison at Santana. Madison has to get the pick in this match, although the Sultans can't be counted completely out. Madison's balanced team should prove too much for Santana to the tune of about 16 points. (Tuesday, 4:30 p.m.)

Mission Bay at El Cajon. The Braves, with a bit of experience, should be able to win some games this year, and Mission Bay is a good opponent to start with. Mission Bay has a pair of excellent shooters, but the Braves get the upset nod here, by 3 points. (Tuesday, 4:30 p.m.)

La Jolla at Monte Vista. This contest will mark the second game in as many that the Monarchs will be hard pressed to win. La Jolla offers good defensive work, but Monte Vista should hit well from the outside for a six-point win. (Wednesday, 4:30 p.m.)

Wrestling

The Mount Miguel Invitational meet heads the list of attractions Saturday, and to nobody's surprise, Mount Miguel should win its own tourney. Competition will be offered by El Cajon, a tough early-in-the-season type team, and possibly Chula Vista.

Monte Vista, meanwhile, will wrestle the same day, only in another type meet, Santana's "triple-dual" tournament at Santana High School.

The Gulls have won all five of their games against Seattle this season, four of them in Seattle. In the only appearance on San Diego ice, Ken Broderick blanked the Totems as the Gulls ran up a 7-0 win.

Against Denver, the Gulls are 1-2-1. The series have been good for the home teams; Denver has a 2-0 home ice record, and the Gulls are 1-0-1 at the Sports Arena.

jans at 8 p.m. Castle Park has not shown tremendous power as yet this season, and is a slightly shorter team than Monte Vista. The height advantage should give Monte Vista center Greg Burness a chance to get some rebounds and easier shots, but the Trojans' outside shooting skills could cause some problems for the Monte Vista guards.

On Tuesday, Monte Vista will get a stab at Patrick Henry, a team that has also failed to flex muscle this season. The Monarchs, playing in the Henry gym, should get a good opportunity to win two straight.

NEW HELICOPTER — Chief Pilot Roger Griselle, left, and Lt. R. A. Morse, right, of the San Diego County Sheriff's Department check out on placement of the Department star with the help of John McElhinney of Bell Helicopter Co. The star is being placed on the new Bell helicopter which has just been delivered to the Sheriff's Department, the first of three to be used for patrol in San Diego County. The sound of the helicopter will soon be the sound of security for San Diego County residents.

First Of Three New Helicopters Arrives Here For Sheriff's Use

San Diego County residents will soon have a friendly if somewhat noisy eye in the sky — three, in fact — to help cut down on crime and speed emergency aid.

The first of three helicopters has been delivered to the Sheriff's Department; all three are expected to be operational by the middle of January, Sheriff John E. Duffy said.

The helicopters will be on routine patrol from 10 a.m. to 2 a.m. They will operate in the Sheriff's area of responsibility and in greater San Diego, one working closely with the police departments of San Diego, El Cajon and La Mesa. The populous unincorporated areas of Lemon Grove and Spring Valley will get heavy coverage, but the helicopters may appear anywhere they are needed in the County.

The Board of Supervisors, at Duffy's request, authorized going into the helicopter program and budgeted nearly $208,000 for the project. The Federal government then supplied a $300,000 grant.

Duffy said the three helicopters fully equipped for police work costs $205,000 and will cost about $72,000 to maintain during their first year of operation.

Quick response, mobility, and wide coverage, are the advantages of a helicopter, Duffy said.

A standby helicopter can be in the air within three minutes and cruises at 100 miles an hour. This quick response can increase apprehensions by more than 75%; in auto accidents and other emergencies, it can save lives by getting trained first aid help on the scene quickly. Rapid medical help can cut auto accident deaths by 50%, Duffy claimed.

San Diego County is 4,314 miles big — with 75 miles of seacoast and 80 miles of border with Mexico. A constant helicopter patrol costs as much as four cars — but it can cover 40 times the area of one patrol car. The observer in a helicopter can check high places such as roofs of buildings quickly and thoroughly. Surveillance of a fleeing auto is simplified. Where foot, horse and vehicle patrols are now used in search and rescue, a helicopter can cover the area and bring help in a fraction of the time.

Command decision is immeasurably easier in a time of widespread civil disobedience, the case of a major disaster like the Laguna fire. Immediate information is available for coordinating activities of many diverse groups. The helicopter can also bring the command post closer to the center of the activity.

"These are some of the reasons why 79 police departments in 28 states now have 173 helicopters in use to fight crime," Duffy says. "Results have been impressive. Lake-wood cut its major crime rate by 11%, vandalism by 75%. Long Beach cut its crime rate by 3.2% and had a 9% relative decrease in robberies, burglaries, and auto theft. Kansas City reported a 13.5% decrease in crimes in the patrol area. Seattle's helicopter covers the waterfront in an hour — a beat that takes three patrol boats all day. And high speed boats can no longer get away."

The helicopter team will be made up of three helicopters, project director, Inspector Quinten D. Cash, a sergeant in charge, five observer-pilot teams, and support personnel.

The three helicopters consist of two Bell 47G-5 for general use and one supercharged Bell 47G-3B2 with high altitude rescue capability. All three will be equipped with 28-channel radio so that they will be in constant communication with all law enforcement agencies throughout the county; medical rescue equipment; and large-area illumination.

All pilots will be fully qualified. Several are Viet Nam veterans. Observers receive 108 hours of classroom and flight training and will have advanced first aid certificates. In flight the observer will be in tactical control as the officer-in-charge; the pilot will be responsible for flight safety.

sacked. He was untouched by Minnesota.

Hadl picked apart the Vikings with 20-of-29 completions for 165 yards and two touchdowns as the Chargers gained 314 yards. Lauded by Charger interim coach Harland Svare and Minnesota's Bud Grant, Hadl raised his season's totals to 200 completions and 2,596 yards, both tops in the NFL.

Little Jerry LeVias, making his first start of 1971, caught seven passes for 56 yards and ran for 61 yards on two reverses. Mike Garrett rushed for 49 yards and caught five passes. Dennis Pardee kicked field goals of 12, 43, and 22 yards and has hit on 9-of-9 from within 30 yards this season.

On defense, the Chargers intercepted four passes with rookie safety Bryant Salter taking two and Pete Barnes returning one 36 yards for a touchdown. Barnes also made eight unassisted tackles. Bob Babich had 13 tackles, one below his season's average.

Renewal Notices Sent To California Vehicle Owners

California's Department of Motor Vehicles last week mailed registration renewal notices to the owners of ten million automobiles, two million trucks, 1.3 million trailers, 560,000 motorcycles and half a million boats.

The owners of at least two million of these 14.4 million vehicles and vessels will take advantage of the early renewal opportunity, paying their 1972 fees in advance of the January 1 due date. Most of the rest will renew during January.

A million others will stand in line during the final days, including the February 4, 1972, deadline for registering without penalty. After the deadline other thousands will pay more than they would have to.

Jim Hardison Seeks Assembly District Post

Jim Hardison, special representative to the Commission of the Californias and columnist for this newspaper, is a candidate for the elective office of State Assemblyman for the 76th District, a post vacated by San Diego Mayor Pete Wilson.

Hardison

Hardison, 42, is a former member of the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce, and is currently a business administrator for General Dynamics. He also teaches evening courses for the San Diego Community Colleges and for the adult sections of Clairemont, Hoover, and North Shores High Schools.

Hardison serves on the Cultural and Social Affairs Committee of the Commission of the Californias, holds a master's degree in California History from the University of San Diego, and is currently working on his doctoral studies.

Mills' Bike Bill Goes To Governor

The Legislature sent to the Governor a measure that would help state and local agencies construct bicycle lanes and equestrian paths.

SB-108 by Senate President Pro-Tempore James R. Mills (D-San Diego) would provide $720,000 annually to aid state agencies, cities and counties in obtaining funds from federal sources for the construction of, and the acquisition of rights-of-way for bicycle lanes and equestrian paths.

Originally a five per cent Recreational Trails tax on bicycles and most recently a plan to use gas taxes for bike lanes, the final version would appropriate $60,000 per month from the State share of the sales tax on gasoline revenues that will be collected in the State beginning on July 1, 1972. Mills also authored the sales tax on gasoline measure.

"At least," says Director of Motor Vehicles Robert C. Cozens, "that's the pattern of the past."

Cozens has this advice for recipients of renewal statements: "If the statement is correct, it can be mailed to DMV's local or Sacramento office with a check or bank draft in the exact amount of the billings. The sticker will be mailed to you."

"Better yet, get in the 'express' line at your nearest DMV office and walk out with your 1972 sticker."

"If you still own the vehicle but the statement no longer reflects the true situation because of a change of name, address, license number, etc., bring the statement to the nearest DMV office with all documents that explain the discrepancy. Do this early."

The new vehicle sticker for 1972 is bright yellow, and belongs in the embossed indentation in the upper right corner of the rear plate. The 3x3 inch boat sticker is red.

as to their goals and methods of reaching them.

In describing one of the communes he visited, Barranger said, "There were 114 Jesus People in the commune. The commune, located near Spokane, Washington, owned 23 buses that were used for living quarters and transportation."

"Amazingly straightlaced in their own lives, members of the commune appeared to be very tolerant of others. Living as 'Jesus People' 100 per cent of the time, they were able to solicit free dental and psychiatric care and other services from the community. They subsisted almost entirely upon financial contributions from the outside world."

During his six weeks with the "Jesus People," Barranger was present at a "Jesus Festival," attended by more than 5,000 people. In his presentation, he will point out the difference between the "Children of God" and the "Jesus People," as well as explain their leadership and "un-organization." Barranger's presentation will also include a slide-tape presentation of "Jesus Rock."

The public is invited to attend a program on two unusual youth movements, presented by a man who lived with, and participated in their activities. There is no charge for admission.

Tax Conference On Tap Friday And Saturday

The Twenty-first Annual Tax Conference of the Society of California Accountants will be held tomorrow and Saturday at the Le Baron Hotel in Mission Valley, it was announced last week.

The conference will be chaired by Ernest Winter, a Lemon Grove accountant, and is sponsored jointly by the San Diego and Palomar chapters of the Society.

In addition to annual changes in the Federal and State Income Tax laws, subjects to be covered at the conference include tax shelters under current law, tax problems involving divorce, corporate dissolutions, profit sharing and pension plans, multiple corporations, estate planning, and tax litigations.

Each barrel of beer sold earns the government a total of over $12 ($9 federal excise tax plus an average amount for all state taxes). By comparison, the brewing industry's average profit per barrel, after taxes, has been estimated at a little over a dollar.
